

Class Rules

Welcome to your new Grade 5 class.

Let's have a happy and enjoyable year together!

In our class, there is one main rule. That rule is to respect other people. In Vietnamese, “respect” means “tôn trọng.”

What are some examples of respect in class? Here are a few:

- Being quiet during the lesson. If you are noisy, you might stop other students from learning.
- Listening quietly while the teacher or another student is talking.
- Following your teacher's instructions.
- Not playing with toys or other distracting things during a lesson.
- Definitely no saying bad things to other students.

And that's it! As long as you are being respectful, we'll get along great.

Let's have a good, happy, year together, where we all try our best, and respect each other!
